

A Fantastic Workshop Transformation for Ferrari's New Facility in Christchurch

New Zealand's foremost specialist coating group Special Finishes has recently completed the transformation of the New Continental Ferrari Workshop in Christchurch.

This transformation will ensure many years of trouble free operation for the client by using the internationally proven Armepoxy Flooring System for this project, worthy of the world's top automotive brands which are regularly repaired in this.

Armepoxy was chosen for this project based on years of excellent results in other workshops throughout New Zealand and overseas including the Sultan of Brunei's personal garages, and Continental Ferrari's workshop in Auckland, which was a stunning transformation in its own right.

The transformation process of this floor involved diamond grinding the concrete substrate to ensure excellent bond of the Armepoxy Flooring System. Once this process had been completed, Armepoxy Primer was applied, then Optiglue was used to fill major holes and defects in the concrete surface. This was then followed by two coats of Armepoxy, then line marking installed. The resulting floor is seamless, without roller marks and looks stunning.
